

WYOMING

4 1

This sun drenched family home has a panoramic northerly outlook of the district. It is well proportioned with spacious living and dining areas as well as an enormous rumpus room on the lower level. All bedrooms have built-in robes and there is reverse cycle air conditioning. The rear deck overlooks the near level back yard which is ideal for active children.

This property oozes potential and would also be ideal for someone working from home. Other features of the home include energy saving improvements such as insulation and solar hot water.
